ACADEMY INFORMATION

The Longview Police Department Business Police Academy offers local businesses the opportunity to learn more about their police department -- actively participating in building an even stronger partnership between the community and the police department.

Classes are held on the third Wednesday of each month, beginning on February 19, 2020. Each 2-hour class will occur at lunch time, 11:00 am to 1:00 pm, at the Longview Police Department's Roy Stone Training Center located at 302 W. Cotton Street. Lunch will be furnished to participating class members. The purpose of conducting class during lunch is to minimize class members' time away from their work or office.

The curriculum consists of discussions regarding Department organization, use of force, narcotics, search and seizure, traffic enforcement, internet crimes, child crimes and more... Attendees will even be offered a Saturday at the range for an opportunity to see first hand the life-saving equipment of both S.W.A.T. and Negotiations in action.

We realize your schedule may not permit you to attend each class—please do not let that deter you from applying! The class is free and we will provide you with notebooks and any other supplies needed.
